Dear Friends,

Jesus told us in Matthew 6:34 "Do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble"

Max Lucado gave an illustration about the secret of an Ironman triathlete's success. This athlete shared with Max his secret. "You last the long race by running short ones." Don't swim three miles...just swim to the next buoy. Don't bike 100 miles...ride 10 and take a break and ride 10 more. Always take it one challenge at the time.

These are great words for living out our lives each day. Someone once said that we write one page of our lives with each day that we live. This is a wonderful thought and way of approaching life one day at the time. As a challenge comes before us, take it in stride using small baby steps, so it will not overwhelm you. It may be tough to get past some of life's problems, but we can get through the next hour and then slowly but surely, we are able to get past any circumstance.

Let me share a prayer of Max Lucado, "Lord, you taught us how to face our challenges when you told us to live one day at a time. Each day brings its own perplexing problems. You remind us that we don't need to borrow worry from tomorrow. Help us to face daily demands each day by living in your love moment by moment and hour by hour. You have promised to be with us and to lead and guide us. We take each step of life and breathe each breath of life under your watchful care. Forgive us when we fret about the future. Help us to rest continually in you. Amen"

Be careful in life to not waste one precious moment with worry, fretting, and anxiety.

Live Life Well!

Thank you for allowing Cindy and me to walk on this journey with you.
